A man who wants to marry Helen Gould has been arrested as a crank. In our opinion the man who wants to marry such a daisy shows remarkably good sense.

A projector with rubber claims to have discovered a process by which a tip top India rubber can be produced from a distillation of turpentine. But he may be doing some stretching.

Oscar S. Strauss, our minister at Constantinople, has compelled the customs officials at that port to pass 20,000 barrels of American flour which they had condemned as unwholesome. He convinced them that they didn't know good flour when they saw it.

After all the malodorous advertising American "embalmed beef" got just after the racket with Spain, some surprise is expressed that the British Government is buying a great deal of it to ship to South Africa. Perhaps they are going to shoot it at the Boers.

A baking powder trust has been formed in Chicago to fight another baking powder trust. On general principles we are opposed to trusts, but there are extenuating circumstances in favor of the trust that is organized to fight another trust. The consumer enjoys that kind of a racket.

Mrs. Langtry, "the Jersey Lily," is going to write a book of reminiscences. If she tells all she knows it will be a fetching book, at least to some people, who would probably like to buy up the whole edition, as did the paternal parent of that Chicago girl who "writ" a novel with some pictures in it.

Some horticulturists of Orlando, Fla., have been experimenting in producing seedless fruit, and are said to have succeeded in producing a few seedless peaches, which have a more delicate flavor and are more luscious than the peach with the seed in it. Now let them hurry up and give us a seedless watermelon and a seedless grape, and coming generations will pronounce them Orlando daisies.

Reckless Driving.

A friend of the STAR calls its attention to the reckless driving that is allowed on Market street and addresses a pertinent inquiry to the authorities as to why an officer is not stationed along this way as a safeguard to bicyclists and pedestrians. He cites an instance of a young lady bicyclist, who was run over by a milk cart driving at a rapid rate yesterday afternoon and severely injured, to say nothing of smashing up the wheel and frightening the young lady almost beyond description.

TWO THOUSAND SCHOOL CHILDREN.

The Public Schools Opened Yesterday With Largest Attendance in Their History. The List Will Be Added To.

According to the announcement previously made, the public schools of the city opened yesterday morning at 9 o'clock for the term of 1899-1900.

The High School.

The formal opening took place at the Tileston High School, where there was a large attendance of pupils and their friends. On the rostrum with Miss Worth, the principal, and Superintendent Jno. J. Blair were Mr. Jas. F. Post, of the school committee of District No. 1, and Messrs. Samuel Northrop and Jas. H. Chadbourn, of the school committee of District No. 2.

After devotional exercises, conducted by Messrs. Post and Northrop, Superintendent Blair made a brief address touching the occasion. He said that the last time the school was assembled it was for the purpose of honoring the graduating class, one of whom, Miss Elizabeth D. Burtt, has entered the Baptist Female University, at Raleigh, and two, Misses Annie Morton and Annie Harrison, have gone to the State Normal College, at Greensboro. He said he was satisfied that these young ladies would sustain the credit and good name of the High School, and that the senior class of this term can follow the record made by last year' class and can safely take it as a standard to go by. He extended a welcome to the boys and girls who have come up this year from the Union and Hemenway schools and congratulated them that upon the completion of the course in those schools still higher education is open to them. He remarked that it mattered not what business or profession they intended to follow, the training they are to receive in the High School is the best preparation for it.

After the enrollment of pupils and the assignment of work, the school was dismissed till this morning at 9 o'clock. The school hours in this school will be from 9 A. M. till 2.15 P. M.

The Other Schools.

The term also opened at 9 A. M. at the Hemenway and Union schools, for white pupils, and the Peabody and Williston schools, for colored pupils.

Superintendent Blair made the rounds of all these schools after he left the Tileston High School, and he informs us that the opening in all of them is most auspicious. The enrollment of pupils is nearly 2,000, and with others to come in during the session, the enrollment will exceed that by from 100 to 150.

After the schools had been dismissed the children raided the bookstores and they did a lively business in the sale of books and slates.

The school hours in the Hemenway, Union, Williston and Peabody schools will be from 9 A. M. till 2 P. M.

The Enrollment.

The enrollment of pupils in the various schools was as follows:

	1898.	1899.
Union	587	656
Hemenway	450	541
Tileston	——	172
Peabody	——	293
Williston	——	323
Total		1,985

As will be seen, the enrollment in the Union school exceeds that of the last term by 69, and the Hemenway school shows an increase of 91.

MARRIAGE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Miss Innes, of London, Happily Wedded to Mr. Couldery, of Wilmington.

A pretty wedding was celebrated in St. John's Episcopal Church yesterday afternoon at 1.20 o'clock, when Mr. Guy Allan Couldery led to the altar Miss Margaret Cottier Innes, of Canada, and they were made one in the beautiful Episcopal marriage ceremony by Rev. James Carmichael, D. D., rector of the parish.

The groom is the popular car inspector for the Seaboard Air Line at Wilmington, and the bride is a cultured English lady who has been spending some time in America and Canada with friends and relatives.

The wedding march and other classical musical selections were beautifully rendered by Mr. James Craft as organist, and after the ceremony the bridal party was handsomely entertained at dinner and at an informal reception at the residence of Mrs. Beulah Norwood, No. 316 Red Cross street.

Mr. and Mrs. Couldery left on the afternoon S. A. L. train for an extended bridal tour, after which they will return to Wilmington to make this city their home.

Full Dress Inspection.

There will be full dress inspection of the Boys' Brigade of Immanuel Presbyterian church, Col. Walker Taylor commanding, to-night at 8 o'clock. A pleasing feature of the evening's exercises will be a formal presentation of the brigade to Rev. Edward E. Lane, the new pastor, by Col. Taylor. The "boys" are expected to be out in full dress uniform and looking "their finest."

TO MANUFACTURE SODA IN WILMINGTON.

The B. F. Keith Company Follows in the Wake of the Roanoke Chemical Co. To Travel Several States.

Since the Roanoke Chemical Company has discontinued its soda works in this city, the STAR is pleased to be able to state that Wilmington will still number among her industries that important branch of business.

The B. F. Keith Company has established the "City Soda Works" in connection with their wholesale grocery, 128 and 130 North Water street, and will manufacture soda on a large scale. A STAR scribe yesterday visited their factory and was shown some of the first goods their works turned out. The goods are put up in exceedingly neat packages, under the trade mark of "Reliable Brand," and it was learned that the product of the establishment will be packed in any quantity to suit the trade.

The quality of the goods turned out by the "City Soda Works" is guaranteed to be equal to any on the market, and the company expects to push its product on its merits. They will cover about the same territory as that occupied by the Roanoke Chemical Company, including the trade in several Southern and Western States.

In connection with their soda interests, it is learned that the B. F. Keith Company will hereafter handle only special lines in their wholesale grocery business.

Windley, deacon in charge of the Chapel of the Good Shepherd, and left yesterday for his home.

County School Opening.

All the county schools yesterday had auspicious openings and from reports Capt. Manning, the efficient superintendent, has received, the attendance in the various districts was never larger. The STAR has already published a list of the teachers in the institutions and made a reference to the improvements completed during the vacation.

Capt. Manning visited the new Castle Haynes school house yesterday and two adjoining districts and expresses himself well pleased with the way they have begun the Fall term.

A MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

Fourteen-Year-Old Son of Mr. E. V. Richards Missing Since Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Richards were much distressed yesterday over the mysterious disappearance of their son, Ernest, aged 13 years, who had not been seen or heard of since Saturday afternoon 5 o'clock.

Mr. Richards notified the police Saturday night of the disappearance of the little fellow, but all the patrolmen reported that nothing had been seen or heard of the boy, though they had kept a strict lookout for him everywhere.

Mr. Richards at first suspicioned that his son had run away to join the circus which passed through the city last week, but he said late yesterday afternoon that after diligent inquiry he was reasonably sure that he did not go this way. Mr. Richards then feared that he embarked on the British steamship Baron Douglas, which cleared this port for Bremen early Sunday morning; but last night, through the kindness of Mr. B. H. Marshall, of the Atlantic Coast Line, Mr. Richards learned from a private telegram from Superintendent W. N. Royall, of the South Carolina division of the Atlantic Coast Line, that his son was at Monck's Corner, six miles from Charleston, and that he was accompanied by another Wilmington boy, named Sugg, who is a nephew of Mr. W. H. Scarboro, of this city. Mr. Richards, with Mr. Scarboro, is making arrangements to go for the boys to-day, who say now that they are very anxious to return.

Cotton and Naval Stores.

There were sales of spirits turpentine on the local market yesterday at 48½@49 cents, which is as high as the quotations have reached this season. The tone of the market is firm, and receipts continue light.

There was an advance of three-eighths of a cent in the local cotton quotations yesterday, and the market was quoted at the closing firm on a basis of 7¼ cents for middling and 7⅝ cents for good middling, which is the highest point reached since August 15th, 1897. Receipts yesterday were 2,408 bales, against 4,778 on the corresponding date last year. The price on the same day last year was only 5 cents, which is a difference in favor of the farmer this year of 2¼ cents.

Liberal Contribution.

At Grace M. E. Church on Sunday morning, in response to an appeal by the pastor, Rev. A. P. Tyer, a collection amounting to $185 was taken up for the fund for the superannuated preachers and the widows and orphans of deceased preachers of the North Carolina Conference. No previous notice had been given that such a collection would be lifted, and as it was the third special collection called for in the past five weeks, the handsome response speaks in eloquent terms of the liberality of the congregation.

Synod of North Carolina.

Rev. A. D. McClure, Mr. B. G. Worth and Rev. Wm. Black, the latter having just closed a very successful series of revival services at Southport, left on the S. A. L. afternoon train yesterday for Asheville to attend the Synod of North Carolina, which will be in session in that city this week. Mrs. W. S. Glenn and little daughter, Martha, who have been visiting Rev. Mr. McClure, also left on the afternoon train. Mr. McClure will spend next Sunday at Davidson on a visit to his son, who is in school there.

THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

A Meeting of the Membership Committee Last Night—Since August 1st 119 Members Have Been Added.

A meeting of the special committee on membership of the Young Men's Christian Association was held last night with a goodly attendance.

The report of the teams competing in the procurement of new members, show that 119 new members have been secured since August 1st, when the initiation fee was suspended for seventy-five days. Owing to the fact that the time for which this splendid inducement was offered will close on the 14th instant, all present were urged to bring in as many new members as possible, so that the list of new members can be run up to at least 150 by Saturday night at 10 o'clock.

The inducements now offered to new members are the greatest ever made by the association. They are full memberships, embracing the privileges of the library of 5,000 volumes, a reading room thoroughly supplied with standard periodicals, the gymnasium with regular classes and a competent instructor, hot and cold shower baths, the night school, the weekly Bible class, the "Star" course of five entertainments, and the popular course of five entertainments. The cost of a membership securing all these advantages is only $5 for twelve months.

On Thursday night, the 19th inst., a banquet will be tendered to the new members and the membership committee. The winning team—that is the one of the two teams which have been competing in securing new members—will be given the preference of the good things which will be set forth by the ladies' auxiliary.

A special effort will be made by the committee between now and the 15th, so that all who desire to become members of the association should not fail to hand in their names at once, as this special offer closes on that date. Information as to terms and further particulars can be had from Mr. Paul M. Taylor, of the Hustlers, or Mr. P. Heinsberger of the Busy Bees, or from General Secretary Howard Caldwell.

THE FOOT BALL SEASON.

O. A. N. Club Making Arrangements for Fall Practice—Thanksgiving Game.

The O. A. N. club, that substantial athletic organization, which has given Wilmington all that she has had in foot ball sport for the past few years, is arranging to put a strong team on the grid-iron this season and as a natural sequence to give the local cranks a rousing good game for their annual Thanksgiving sport.

The club has been already organized and practices will begin this week. The management has secured grounds on Front between Church and Castle streets and arc lights and incandescants for the nightly practices were placed yesterday by the Street Railway Company.

While it cannot be positively asserted, it is more than probable that the first practice will be held on to-morrow night and the team selected within the next ten days or two weeks.

A Loss to Pender.

Judge and Mrs. W. T. Bannerman, of Burgaw, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Grady in this city for a few days, left yesterday afternoon for Thomasville, Ga., where they will hereafter reside. Judge Bannerman has been one of Pender county's very best citizens and he and his charming wife will be a great loss to the community in which they have lived so long. The Judge is a man of the staunchest integrity, and has been honored more than once in his county, having for ten years under the old regime served as Clerk of Court and Probate Judge. He and his excellent wife are well known and highly esteemed in Wilmington and their friends regret that they have removed to a distant home.

Reception to New Pastor.

To-night, in the assembly room of Immanuel Presbyterian church, the congregation will tender a formal reception to their new pastor, Rev. Edward E. Lane, who arrived to accept the pastorate October 1st. Members of the church and friends are cordially invited to be present.

Priscilla wears a gown of serge,
A jacket plain, but trim.
Her sweet gray eyes peep coyly out
Beneath a sailor's brim.
But in the Safe Deposit fund,
Five silver dollars bright,
She stores away 'gainst rainy day
As each month takes its flight.

For "what I save," she says, "I have,"
While what I spend on dress,
Pleases awhile, goes out of style,
And leaves me penniless.
But in the Safe Deposit fund
I've put ten fives this year,
And when ten more increase the store,
I'll have a hundred clear."

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

Series of Revival Services Begun Sunday. Large Congregations in Attendance. Mr. Wolfsohn, the Singer.

The series of revival services at the First Baptist Church were opened on Sunday with three especially strong sermons by Dr. Blackwell, morning, afternoon and night. The services during the morning and at night were very largely attended and there was much interest manifested.

Dr. Blackwell preached at the morning service from the theme, "The Throne Can Only be Reached on Our Knees," which was based on the scripture text, "I will go in unto the king," which is found in the last verse of the fourth chapter of Esther, and was a forceful presentation of Bible truth to the Christians and the unsaved alike.

Interest in the meeting was unabated yesterday, and both services were marked by a large attendance. The subject of Dr. Blackwell's sermon last night was "How can a man be just with God;" and Mr. Wolfsohn, the celebrated chorister, who is adding materially to the meeting with his sweet singing, rendered the solo "My Mother's Prayer."

The song service at the meetings Sunday was by a special choir under direction of the chorister, Mr. Wolfsohn. Prof. A. H. Yopp served as pianist during the services, and added much to that part of the worship.

The meetings will be continued during the week with services at 10 A. M. and 8 P. M. The song service will be from 8 to 8.15 P. M. daily.

Disturbance at Ruth Hall.

Last night about 9.30 o'clock a disturbance was created at Ruth Hall, corner Seventh and Nun Streets, where a dance was in progress participated in by a number of the colored people. It appears from what could be learned at police headquarters that a number of the "lesser lights" invaded the hall and began using vile and indecent language, which was rebuked in a substantial way by the managers of the hall for the night's entertainment. The police made six arrests as follows: Geo. Williams, Ed. Thompson, Wm. Murphy, Charles Robinson, Ed. McNeill and Henry McQueen, all colored.

The company is to be congratulated upon securing his services, and his host of friends will be pleased to learn that he has a position for which he is so happily equipped.

Repairs to Engine House No. 1.

Chairman Hanby, of the Public Buildings Committee of the Board of Aldermen, has awarded the contract for some repairs at engine house No. 1, to Mr. C. D. Morrill and work was begun yesterday by a force of carpenters tearing up the old floor, replacing the unsound sleepers with new ones and otherwise making repairs to the foundations. The building will be thoroughly overhauled preparatory to being repainted. As yet, Mr. Morrill has received no contract for repairs to the other houses, but it is presumed these will be taken up in their order and greatly improved.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 10.

THE LEADERS NOT AT THEIR EASE.

Although normally a Republican State the Republicans consider Ohio debatable ground this year, as is shown by the extraordinary efforts they are making to carry it. If they felt confident of being able to carry the State in November they never would have dragged the President and his Cabinet into the campaign, and fixed up the programme by which he will cross the State twice on his stumping tour, for that is what it is, by whatever name it may be called. He may make short speeches from the tail end of a railroad train, and they may not appear to have any politics in them, but they will be political speeches all the same, intended to help the Republican party and to boost Wm. McKinley for a re-nomination. We say to boost Wm. McKinley for a renomination, for if the Republicans lose Ohio, the home State of Mr. McKinley and of Mark Hanna, it is morally certain that McKinley will be beaten in the next Republican national convention, even if there were a serious effort made to nominate him, which is very doubtful. No two men in this country know this better than McKinley and Hanna, and hence the extraordinary exertions that both are making and will continue to make. This is one reason why the federal office holders in Ohio are being brought into service and called upon to do campaign work according to their ability, some as stumpers, others as organizers and drummers for votes, and all as contributors of cash. The civil service with its "offensive partisanship" and assessments goes to the winds in this emergency, and they are not only bleeding the office-holders in Washington, from Ohio, but all federal office holders regardless of the State from which they were appointed. How they are doing it is thus told in a Washington letter to the Philadelphia Record:

"Senator Hanna has revived the Jay Hubbell system of levying campaign assessments upon the Federal office-holders in Washington, regardless of the State to which they are accredited. Within the past few days employes of the Government service here, not from Ohio, as well as those from Ohio, have received a long letter from W. F. Burdell, treasurer of the Finance Committee of the Ohio Republican State Executive Committee, calling for contributions to the Republican campaign fund in the Buckeye State. The letter says that "a Democratic victory in Ohio this fall would carry with it almost full control of the political machinery of the State, thus enabling the opposition to intrench itself for the Presidential campaign of 1900.

"A special session of the Legislature called by a Democratic Governor would redistrict the State for Congressional purposes under the apportionment of 1900, thereby reducing the Republican representation from this State in the lower house of Congress, and, perhaps, endangering our majority in that body. These facts, it seems to us, will forcibly appeal to every Republican.

"We hope you will be willing to contribute to the legitimate expenses of the State Committee in its efforts to maintain Republican supremacy.

"The appeal is accompanied by printed extracts from the Civil Service act relative to the collection of political assessments from employes in the public service, and Treasurer Burdell states that, to avoid any violation of the law on the subject, the committee in charge of the financial branch of the campaign is made up of persons in no wise connected with the Federal service. He adds:

" 'In sending us a contribution you will in no way violate any provision of the Civil Service law. We are asking for voluntary contributions to assist in defraying the proper and lawful expenses of the campaign, and we will be responsible for the proper distribution of any funds which may be entrusted to us.'

These are "confidential" circulars, intended as a hint as to what Federal office-holders are expected to do, and not for public consumption. We suppose this thing is done more less in all campaigns, but heretofore the managers have confined their attentions to the place-holders from the States in which the elections were held and did not attempt the wide scoop that Hanna's man is doing now. These are called "voluntary contributions," and the victims are assured that in as much they are voluntary contributors there will be no violation of the civil service law if they respond to the plaintive plea for cash to save Ohio, and if they don't they will be spotted all the same, and they know it. There are ways of getting even with the delinquents, and they know that. There isn't much conscience in politics; if there were Mr. McKinley would feel uncomfortable over this "voluntary contribution" whipping the devil round the stump, and getting fellows outside, who don't hold office, to do the bleeding.

It is said that McLean is making a peculiar campaign and has the Republican machine managers somewhat scared, and the first thing Hanna does when he gets scared is to knock the head out of his barrel and pass the hat around lively. Referring to this the letter from which we quote says:

"A well known Ohio Republican, who received one of these letters today, confided the information, which he said he had received as coming from Senator Hanna, that 'Johnny McLean is putting up an unexpectedly strong fight in all the big cities of the State, and it will require every dollar the Republican Committee can raise to secure a Republican victory.'"

Mr. McLean seems to be making his canvass mainly against expansion and the trusts, the effect of which is more visible at present in the cities than in the rural districts, in which there is less organization and where less work has been done. There are two elements from which McLean expects to draw heavily, one of which was almost solid against the Democratic party in the last election, and the other largely so. The former is the Germans, the latter the labor organizations. Every city in Ohio has a large German population, the majority of whom are anti-expansionists. And every city has its labor organizations also, which, whatever they may think of expansion, are opposed to trusts. The candidate who can command the support of these two elements can very safely count the cities his. It is for these that McLean is planning, and planning so successfully as to impress the Republican leaders with the belief that he is "putting up an unexpectedly strong fight," which is attested by the extraordinafy efforts they are making to pull the office holders for cash.

To what extent these two elements of which we speak may change the status compared with the last election is all a matter of speculation, but it would not require a very large change in the vote to give the State to the Democrats, provided the Democrats can hold their own in the rural districts, where the Republicans find their most reliable voters. But there is no reason why the rural voter should not take as much or more interest in the trust question than the city voter does, for he is quite as much affected by the trusts, although he may not be so quick to see it.

Some of the cash the managers are now raking in will, of course, find its way into the rural districts, while the bulk of it will be distributed in the municipalities in which McLean is putting up his unexpectedly strong fight, for Hanna has an abiding confidence in the persuasive power of the dollar.

It will be a whole plume in McLean's chapeau if he carries Ohio against such an adroit and unscrupulous manager as Hanna and we would like to be able to persuade ourselves that he can. If he should we would be most agreeably surprised.

A SUCCESS.

The Marconi system of wireless telegraphy now being employed by the New York Herald in reporting the international yacht races has realized all expectations and proved to be a complete success. As far as transmitting dispatches from ship to ship at sea, or across bodies of water from shore to shore, such as the British channel, for instance, it has passed the experimental stage and the only question now is the possible distance which messages may be sent by this process. There are some who claim, Nikola Tesla among them, that the distance is practically illimitable, and that dispatches will eventually be transmitted as far without wires as they now are with them, but Marconi does not make any such extraordinary claims, but is on the contrary very modest, which entitles what he does claim to more credit.

Considering the time he has been experimenting with wireless telegraphy, about four years, he has made remarkable progress and secured marvellous results. As these experiments are still in their infancy, there is no imagining what may yet be accomplished, for scarcely a week passes that some new possibility in electricity is not discovered. Enough progress has already been made with the Marconi system to give it a prominent place as a useful agency of communiation between vessels at sea and from vessels to the shore, and even if nothing else were accomplished this makes it a thing of inestimable value.

Chicago is said to be the greatest egg accumulator on this continent. There are now stored in the coal storage warehouses there 907,800,000 eggs. This gives some idea of how the American hen attends to business.

GOING IN AND OUT.

A few days ago we made some remarks on the capture and evacuation of Porac, which was promptly re-occupied by several hundred Filipino soldiers. This is the same old game that General Otis has been pursuing since the beginning of the war with the Filipinos, forcing men to march under a blazing tropical sun over hills and through morasses from knee to waist deep, to wade or swim rivers, to attack and capture fortified towns, with no earthly purpose apparent but to capture them, take possession and then evacuate them, for the Filipinos to re-occupy. The extent to which this has been done is shown by the following list of towns captured by our troops:

"Pasig has been captured three times and abandoned twice.

"Guadeloupe has been captured four times and abandoned three times.

"Nariquina has been captured six times and abandoned six times.

"Canita has been captured twice and abandoned twice.

"Antipolo has been captured once and abandoned.

"Morong has been captured twice and abandoned twice.

"Santa Cruz has been captured once and abandoned.

"Pagsanjan has been captured once and abandoned.

"Longos has been captured once and abandoned.

"Paete has been captured once and abandoned.

"Navaliches has been captured twice and abandoned twice.

"San Mateo has been captured once and abandoned.

"San Jose has been captured once and abandoned.

"Norzagaray has been captured once and abandoned.

"Augot has been captured once and abandoned.

"San Miguel de Mayuma has been captured once and abandoned.

"Mexico has been captured twice and abandoned once.

"Bacolor has been captured twice and abandoned once.

"Macabebe, the only town friendly to the Americans, was taken and deserted and allowed to be burned by the natives.

"Quingua was taken twice and abandoned once."

To be added to this list is Porac, and shortly, probably, Mexico, towards which the insurgents were reported to be heading a few days ago. If all this useless town-taking had been accomplished without putting our soldiers through the fearful ordeals to which they were subjected, from heat and rain and wind and exhausting marches, and without loss of life and battle wounds and disease from exposure it might not excite protest, but when it has cost the lives of 450 American soldiers killed in the fights, 550 dead from disease, 1,700 disabled by wounds, and 30 or more captured by the enemy, making a total of nearly 2,700, it is paying too much entirely for this kind of foolishness.

BOOK NOTICES.

The young folks will be delighted with the October number of St. Nicholas, which is filled with interesting reading matter and charmingly illustrated. The young reader will find every page in it interesting. Published by The Century Company, Union Square, New York.

The Bookman for October is an excellent number in which the literary, and the general reader, too, will find much to interest them. "Chronicle and Comment" is one of the features of this publication and is, as usual, full of interesting information. Published by Dodd, Meade & Co., Fifth Avenue and Twenty-first Street, New York.

Among the interesting matter in McClure's Magazine for October are a paper on Dewey's return home, sketch of Samuel L. Clemens, description of the yachts which are contesting for the America cup, and an amusing story entitled "Much Pomp and Several Circumstances," by William Allen White. These are all illustrated. Published by The S. S. McClure Company, 141-155 25th street, New York.

The North American Review for October presents thirteen papers on subjects now engaging the attention of the world, discussed by well known writers of standing ability. Among these are a paper by Capt. T. A. Mahan on the Peace Conference; one entitled "a Transvaal View of the South African Question;" "Five Years of American Progress, by the statistician, M. G. Mulhall, and "The Decline of British Commerce, by A. Maurice Low. Address The North American Review, No. 11 Warren street, New York.

Some men are born for luck. R. B. Denning, who sailed from Honolulu August 5th, for San Francisco, had a valise which contained $50,000 worth of notes and bonds. Shortly after his arrival at San Francisco the valise mysteriously disappeared and he supposed it was stolen. A few days ago he received notice that the valise was on the Pacific mail wharf among the uncalled for packages. It had been shipped back to Honolulu by mistake as part of the effects of the Purser of the vessel. It isn't often that a valise containing such valuables makes two ocean trips and passes through so many hands without being interviewed by some interested prospector.

The employes of the Long Island Railroad Company are forbidden to address any female passenger as "lady." They must call 'em all "Madam," and not grab 'em by the arms, shoulders nor heads either.

FOR ALL LUNG TROUBLE

AN OBJECT LESSON.

It is estimated that the cotton planters of the South will receive from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000 more for this year's crop than they did for last year's crop, in consequence of the advance in prices. This is the result of the decrease in the yield as compared with some of the estimates published before the crop was matured and ready for market, and the holding back from market by planters, and others who have bought to hold, who are anticipating still higher prices. Isn't this an object lesson that the planters may study with profit? A reduction of a couple million bales on the very large estimates published, put prices up although the crop now reported, about 9,500,000 bales, is a very large one. This shows that as the production gets nearer the demand for consumption the price goes up. A strong argument for a limited acreage.

But in addition to this planters who can afford to take the chances, and perhaps some who can't, are marketing only enough to meet their present needs, which also stiffens prices, for the mills must have cotton to keep running, and are consequently eager to get it and compete for it. The planter who raises his home supplies and manages to owe but little, if anything, is in a position to hold his cotton if he thinks best without running any risk of serious embarrassment in the event that prices fall. Here is another strong argument for diversified farming.

The wise planter will certainly profit by the object lesson presented by the cotton market now, keep his cotton acreage within judicious limits and raise home supplies enough to put him in a position to hold his cotton until it suits him to sell it. If this were done the planters could always control the cotton market.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— Now that Dreyfus and Capt. Carter are disposed of, Brigham B. Roberts comes into sight once more. A woman's society of a long name in New York has succeeded in enlisting Miss Helen Gould in opposition to Roberts remaining a member of the National House of Representatives.—Savannah News, Dem.

—— Wireless telegraphy has demonstrated its ability to carry messages through a fog, and herein, perhaps lies its greatest usefulness. Certainly, in this particular, it fills a long felt want, for some means of communicating between ship and shore, or between ship and ship, when there are no cables and signals cannot be seen, has long been, a great desideratum. Here is an opening for the new device at once.—Philadelphia Ledger, Ind.

—— The State League of Republican clubs of Pennsylvania, in session at Harrisburg, on Wednesday, adopted resolutions denouncing the civil service law and demanding the destruction of the merit system. Why denounce a law that a Republican President has made a dead letter? There is no merit system in our civil service. McKinley abrogated it. The Pennsylvania league of republican clubs needs information. —Chattanooga Times, Dem.

— Gen. Otis, in his official report of one day's fighting in the Philippines, has eighty rebels killed in two engagements, and states that they suffered "heavy losses" in three other battles. The slaughter inflicted in Gen. Otis' dispatches is marvelously like the carnage that used to figure in the reports of Gen. Weyler, who killed 2,768,573 Cuban insurgents in one year's war. Otis in his reports has already slain almost enough Filipinos to account for the whole Tagola male population, and the fall campaign is hardly under way.—Chicago News, Ind.

IMPERFECT DRAINS.

Care Should Be Taken That the Impurities Be Properly Carried Off.

Everyone knows of the fatal results which follow the stoppage of the drains in a house.

Queen Victoria's husband, the Prince Consort, died from poisonous germs, which were generated in the palace by the stoppage of the drains.

The Kidneys, among their many other functions, act as drains to the body. Through them the blood passes to be purified, leaving behind a mass of effete matter, which it is their duty to eject from the system.

When, however, the kidneys become congested and all clogged up, this refuse matter accumulates and becomes an active poison, and in course of time, infects the whole man, and eventually, if the cause is not removed, it occasions sudden death, the patient drowning, as it were, in his own secretions.

The symptoms which Nature puts forth like danger signals to tell us that the kidneys no longer do their duty are too numerous to set forth.

Nearly always women's peculiar ailments in their more aggravated and protracted forms are traceable to this source, and rheumatism, in all its varied phases; while pneumonia and Bright's disease are but the culmination of an organic trouble, which, had it been treated organically and not symptomatically, could not possibly have had any such fatal termination.

Coughs and colds, strange as it may seem, are oftentimes symptoms of trouble in the kidneys.

What must be done then in these cases?

It is surely unwise to treat symptoms when we can at once heal the organ from whence the symptoms rise.

Let us then at once go to the root of the trouble and heal the kidneys.

There is a remedy, known all the world over, that will strengthen them so that they can perform their functions, feeding them and cleansing them in such a marvellous manner that the patient immediately feels the good work that is going on, and in a few weeks is able to join the ranks of the many thousands who gratefully acknowledge that they owe health and strength, and sometimes life itself, to this unfailing remedy—Warner's Safe Cure.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Newbern Journal: Rev. John T. Abernathy died at Enfield Thursday evening, in his 50th year. He was the pastor of the Methodist church at Enfield, and was greatly esteemed. He was the first graduate of Rutherford College, and afterwards filled the chairs of Greek and Latin for about twenty years.

— Asheville Citizen: A glance at the record of excursions coming to Asheville during the past season shows that about 5,500 people were brought to this city on these trains. The biggest excursion was that from Chattanooga, with 1,100 people, while the Knoxville excursion was second, with 1,050. The stay of these visitors ranged from two hours to several days.

— Henderson Gold Leaf: Mr. Oliver L. Rowland showed us a sample of wheat last Saturday which is worthy of notice. He planted one peck and made ten bushels—forty to one—and had this been a good wheat year he is confident the yield would have been eleven or twelve bushels. The berry is of fine size, bright golden color, and as perfect as any wheat we ever saw. It is a new variety, called Gold Coin, and is far superior to the ordinary wheat planted.

— Greensboro Telegram: A negro, Will Allen, was arrested last night in Winston. He is wanted in Rockingham county for the murder of Patrick Spencer about a year and a half ago. An officer from that county went to Winston this morning and at noon passed through here with the prisoner for Wentworth, where he will be lodged in jail this afternoon. Allen is a youthful looking negro, quite small, but is said to be much older than he looks. He admits the killing of Spencer, and says they were all drunk and in a row.

— Statesville Mascot: James A. Harris, Esq., of Mooresville, tells us that there will be only about a half of an ordinary crop of cotton made in south Iredell this year, but not half as much as was made last year, when there was an extraordinarily large crop gathered. ——Last Thursday Mr. E. F. Hartsell, of Fallstown township, sold some cotton on this market. He was returning home after dark, and when near Troutman's two men jumped into his wagon. One of them caught him by the throat and choked him and the other took $25 out of his pocket. One of the robbers then fired at him, the ball passing through his hat and singing his hair. Hartsell does not know whether the robbers were white or black, as the robbery was done so quickly.

— Wadesboro Messenger-Intelligence: The death of Capt. G. Brown, which occurred at the Private Hospital in Charlotte at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, though not unexpected, was nevertheless a shock to his friends here. He had been in failing health for a year and some months ago he went to the Private Hospital for treatment. Capt. Brown was born in Duplin county, Sept. 20th, 1842, and was, therefore, just entering the 58th year of his age. —— In a news item in the M. & I. last week it was stated that a number of gentlemen had purchased an excellent site, near town for a cotton mill. This week we are glad to be able to state that a definite movement, looking to the building of a large cotton mill on the site, is on foot. Subscription lists were opened Tuesday and already $50,000 is in sight. The articles of agreement provide that the mill is not to cost less than $100,000 and that no debt is to be contracted, either in its building or equipment.

THE POOR SALESMAN.

One of the Ways He Is Tortured by Exacting Shoppers.

On the shelves of nearly every dry goods store in the city are rolls of goods which have been hauled off the shelves from one to a dozen times a day to be exhibited to possible purchasers. The exacting shoppers have become firmly convinced that such exhibitions of the open ends of rolls cause them to become shopworn. The result is they ask the clerk to cut their order from the inside end. This means the unrolling of the entire bolt for a possible three-quarter yard purchase, but it has to be done.

A fashionably dressed woman stepped into one of the Nicollet avenue stores the other day and asked to be shown some gingham. On the shelves was a brand new stock of ginghams which had just the night before been taken from the boxes in which they were shipped from the factory. They hadn't been shown to any one except possibly the buyers down east, and then these particular pieces had not been exhibited. Bolt after bolt was shown to the shopper, and finally she picked upon a particularly nice new piece of pink gingham at 20 cents a yard.

"It looks a little shopworn," she remarked as she began to fumble with her purse catch.

"It can't be," replied the obliging clerk. "It just last night came out of the box from which it came from the factory."

"Well, I'd prefer it if you would cut it from the other end."

The clerk groaned inwardly, but proceeded to unroll the 30 or 40 yards of gingham.

"How much?" he asked as he took his scissors from his vest pocket.

"Two yards."

His scissors snapped viciously as they clipped off the goods, and the tone in which he called the cashboy was not of the gentlest, but the shopper, at least, was satisfied.—Minneapolis Journal.

Billboard advertisements are posted in some places by machines that reach to the top of a 50 foot wall without ladder or paste pot.

Among the 3,405 newspapers printed in Germany 68 are in foreign languages, including 39 Polish, 19 Danish and 7 French journals.

During 1898 the labor commissioner of Seattle found employment for 18,154 people, in addition to a large number sent to the hopfields to pick hops.

Of 54,000 adult immigrants admitted to the country in the last three months of 1898, 41,000 had money. Less than 9,000, though, had more than $30.

KEPT THE SKELETON.

QUEER REVENGE OF A MAN WHOSE FRIEND WAS MURDERED.

He Took the Bones of the Murderer From the Grave and Hung Them on the Wall of His Outhouse—A Tragedy of the Civil War.

"Morning, colonel."

"Morning, sir," replied the man who was leaning over the fence.

He was a short, thickset man, with a clear and piercing eye, his face shaved smooth, with not the suggestion of a wrinkle; yet his hair was as white as snow. He had a slight southern accent, and his hearty manner of inviting the visitors in and his cordial hospitality were wholly southern. One of the visitors knew him and had told the other that there was a man with a bona fide skeleton in his closet and that the skeleton had a story. It did not require any persuasion to obtain a glimpse of the skeleton. The owner presently led the way to an outhouse, and, opening the door, displayed the skeleton of a man, badly fastened together and hanging to the wall by the neck. The Missourian did not object to telling the story.

"That fellow," he said, motioning with his thumb to the skeleton, "was once an acquaintance of mine, and I liked him so well"—this with a laugh—"that I have kept him by me ever since, so that I can come out and stir him up whenever I feel disposed," and he gave the skeleton a dig in the ribs.

"It was this way," he continued, closing the door on his acquaintance. "During the war I lived in one of the southern states, where I was about the only northern man. They took nearly everything that I had as time went on, killed my stock, killed some of my people and finally announced that they were going to kill me. Nearly all the country was terrorized at that time by a good for nothing chap whom we will call Jim Conner; that was not his name, but it will do—one name is as good as another now.

"When the war broke out, he started in as a sort of independent guerrilla and began a system of looting and killing. I knew him well, and he sent me word that he was coming my way and was going to burn my house and hang me to a tree in the yard. I sent word back that I was ready for him. We heard of him all around—men shot, niggers killed, houses burned—so that the name of Jim Conner became a thing to scare children, not to speak of men. I was always trying to help northern men, and one time had two or three with me, passing them on as occasion offered.

"I had not heard from Conner or his raids for some weeks, when one day he rode into the yard and swore that he was going to burn the house. We had no means of protecting ourselves except by using a rifle, and with that I tried to pick him off from the top story; but he had picked up one of my friends who had been in the field, and they put him on a horse and stood behind him and shot at the windows of the house, at the same time gathering brush with which, they said, to burn the house.

"But no one dared to approach the house, as I was a sure shot. I supposed that they would wait until night and then creep up and burn me out. I kept out of sight and could not believe that they would murder a man in cold blood. But, hearing a shout, I glanced through a bullet hole in the shutter and saw them driving my friend's horse up to a tree—a fine old tree that I had planted as a boy. One of the limbs crossed the drive, and to this they fastened the rope and drove the horse away, leaving my friend dangling there, and I watching the operation totally helpless, while they were looking on.

"Some United States troops finally came along and drove them off and cut the body down, and we joined in the chase. I hunted the gang for weeks, then gave it up, as it was evident that they had given us the slip. After the war I moved to California and came here. I soon heard of a curious character who lived up in one of the canyons the life of a hermit. I never connected his name with Conner, it being more or less common. But when he died one day the story was that he had had a bad record back in Missouri; that he had been a murderer, etc., and it occurred to me that it might be my old enemy, the man I had been after for so many years.

"I can't say that I have a particularly revengeful disposition," said the skeleton owner, "but he had murdered my friend, and I had never given up the hope of finding him and was always on the lookout. The old fellow was alone and homeless, it seems, with no friends, and they had buried him by the side of his hut. I heard of it a few days later and employed some men to aid me in the investigation.

"Conner had a bad saber wound across the face, by which no one could ever fail to recognize him, and when we opened the grave there was the man, while papers which he left showed that he was Conner. I had found him too late to turn him over to the law. So I proposed to hang him where I could keep an eye on him for the rest of my life, and in my will I propose to leave instructions that he shall be left hanging, dangling in the wind, just as he had hanged my friend. I had his skeleton prepared, as no one claimed him, and hung him up as a warning to any of his seed that might follow in his footsteps."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

How He Explained.

"How do you explain the phenomena upon which you base your new discovery?" asked the inquisitive friend.

"Why, I adopt the usual method. I use words so big as to prevent anybody who is not in the same business from undertaking to contradict me. And then if anybody objects, I can say it is professional jealousy."—Washington Star.

One of the Main Requisites.

"I thought he had all the elements of a successful artist for the humorous weeklies, and yet he failed."

"Yes, he failed to make the feet and the mouths large enough to be considered real humor."—Chicago Post.

Shapely Married Women

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is very destructive to the mother's shapeliness. This can be avoided, however, by the use of MOTHER'S FRIEND before baby comes, as this scientific liniment prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of form. MOTHER'S FRIEND also obviates all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing, and thousands gratefully tell of the great good it has done them. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle.

Our little book, telling all about this great remedy, will be sent free to any address by THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR COMPANY, Atlanta, Georgia.

AN ARTISTIC MIX UP.

Bewildering Results That Followed a Photographer's Mistake.

A well known attache of the Hollenden hotel has a maid servant in his household whose complexion would make Erebus look like early twilight. Some time ago this dusky maid determined she would have her picture taken. She wanted a number of copies to send to 'Rastus and her other friends, and she had a personal desire to see how her looks had improved since the last photograph.

Nothing would do but she must patronize a leading photographer. So one day, attired in her Sunday go to campmeeting clothes she visited the studio, looked pleasant and was assured that the photographs when finished would be promptly mailed to her address.

In due course of time the package arrived, and the delighted girl hurried back to the kitchen to open it.

A few moments later one of the other members of the household heard a dull thud, accompanied by a wild crackling. She hurried back to the kitchen, and there was the maid sitting flat on the floor, having evidently tumbled from the coal box, grasping a photograph in either hand and wearing a smile of ecstatic delight.

"Look dat, missy," she cried, "looky dat! Did yo' evah see anythin mo' beautiful in all yo' bo'n days? Wonder what 'Rastus'll say to his baby now? But, oh, missy, I'se mos' 'fraid dat fotumgrapher has done got me jes' a lill might too pale!"

She held up the photographs.

They were unmistakably the likeness of a white girl.

At about the same time a Euclid avenue belle was opening a similar package. There was a smile of delightful anticipation on her face as she drew forth the contents of the envelope. Then she gave a wild shriek and toppled back in her chair. The face that smiled up at her was black!

"It must be the effect of some dreadful chemical change," suggested the horror stricken mother.

"Chemical rubbish," cried the daughter, "those are not my pictures."

Of course you see how it was. The pictures were mixed up by the Buttercup whose business it was to package them up.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Nickname Saved Him.

"His name is Percy Algernon," said the girl in the car to her chum. "Pretty, ain't it? But, then, it's kind o' soft like, too, don't you think?"

"Kind o'," said the other girl. "I like Bill, or Jim, or something like that myself. Never knew a Bill or Jim yet that wasn't reliable. I hope Percy Algernon'll prove to be nice, but I think his name's awf'ly against him, honest I do, Min."

Then the other girl looked thoughtful for a couple of blocks.

"Oh, but he told me," she said, suddenly, then, "that the men down at the store call him 'Spud.'"

"Then you needn't worry," was the consolatory reply. "He's all right," and thus it was settled that Percy Algernon would do.—Washington Post.

I have used the (Poison Spring) Barium Rock Spring water in case of Cancer of the Breast that was on the point of being removed, but owing to the timidity of the lady, was postponed. The local application and internal use of this water removed the inflammation, hardness, and burning pain, and has apparently stopped the morbid growth; all traces have disappeared and for a year the patient has seemed free of the disease.

The Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 10.

RALEIGH'S NEWS BUDGET.

State Bank Examiners—The Pension Roll. Companies Incorporated—The Institution for the Blind.

[Special Star Telegram.]

RALEIGH, October 9.—The Corporation Commission to-day appointed State bank examiners as follows: Dr. George F. Lucas, of Currie, named by Chairman McNeill; W. B. Shaw, Henderson, by Commissioner Beddingfield; Arthur E. Rankin, Fayetteville, by Commissioner Rogers. These examiners examine State and private banks only, seventy-two in number, for which they receive from ten to thirty dollars according to the capital of the bank.

The State Auditor has made preliminary estimates with reference to the State pension roll for the year 1899. The total number of pensioners for 1899 is 5,889. This is an increase of 457 over last year. Of this increase 316 names were placed on the pension roll by acts of the last Legislature. The amount realized from various sources for the pension fund during the year is $122,000. It will be distributed to 121 first class pensioners, 341 second class, 519 third class, 2,234 fourth class, and 2,674 widows,

The following companies were to-day incorporated: Benbow Hotel Company, Greensboro, $80,000; Wesser Creek Gold Mining Company, Swain county, $100,000 capital; Cobb and Thomas Company (sash and blinds) $10,000 capital.

Ex-chief Justice James E. Shepherd has been selected to succeed the late T. W. Strange as standing Master in Chancery for this district of the Federal Court.

At a meeting of the directors of the institution for the Blind to-night, A. M. Scales, Greensboro, was elected director to succeed Pulaski Cowper, Raleigh, resigned. Peter A. Willis, Baltimore, was elected foreman of the broom and mattrass factory. The institution opens Wednesday.

A DRAMATIC TREAT.

Coghlan's Presentation of "The Royal Box" at the Opera House Last Night.

A real dramatic treat, served in a most artistically delicious style, was the performance of Alexander Dumas' romantic play, "The Royal Box," by the eminent English actor, Mr. Charles Coghlan, and his very superior company of artists at the Opera House last night. Much has been said and written of Mr. Coghlan's ability, and it would be an impossibility to speak too flatteringly of the meritorious and artistic production which he and his excellent support tendered our theatre-goers last evening. The chief interest of the play centered, of course, with Mr. Coghlan, and he was compelled to bow to several demonstrative encores from the very appreciative audience; but, withal, no one could fail to note and thoroughly enjoy the superior support which Mr. Coghlan had surrounded himself with, among whom was Miss Coghlan, whose able portrayal of the role of Celia Pryse elicited universal approval. It is to be hoped that Manager Schloss may be able to give his patrons many more attractions as thoroughly artistic and deserving as Mr. Coghlan's performance of last evening proved to be.

Bankruptcy Proceedings.

Samuel H. McRae, Esq., of Fayetteville, referee in bankruptcy, came down to Wilmington on Sunday, and yesterday at The Orton he heard a motion for the dismissal of Scott & Grisham, of Rose Hill, in bankruptcy. Henry L. Stephens, Esq., of Burgaw, was present as counsel for the bankrupts, and former Judge W. R. Allen, of Goldsboro, represented Messrs. J. Weil & Bros. of that city, who are among the creditors. Mr. M. J. Heyer, of Heyer Bros., of this city, who are also creditors, was in attendance. The creditors named consented to the dismissal, and the motion was duly granted.

GREAT BRITAIN'S WAR PREPARATIONS

Seemingly Out of All Proportion to the Work in South Africa.

A LAVISH DISPLAY OF FORCE.

Boers Waiting for British Proposals—Parliament to Meet On 17th—Political Possibilities—Anarchy Threatened in the Transvaal.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, October 9.—The vastness of Great Britain's military preparation—seemingly out of all proportion to the work in hand in South Africa—was not fully realized by the public until the War Office announced that 25,000 reserves had already been summoned to rejoin their commands.

As a matter of fact, General Sir Redvers Buller will have command of twice as many British soldiers as the Duke of Wellington, the conqueror of the first Napoleon, ever saw collected on one battlefield. The reason back of this lavish display are probably a fear of a native rising and possibly a conviction of the advisability of showing Europe that Great Britain is prepared to resent any action resulting from the prevalent continental ill-will.

In this connection, the action of the American department of State and the friendly statements of President McKinley and Secretary of State Hay, published here, are heartily welcomed as a happy return for Great Britain's refusal to sanction continental intervention in the war between the United States and Spain.

The Boers Waiting.

As the Boers failed to attack Natal when the colony was vulnerable, it is beginning to be felt that they are pursuing a deliberate policy of waiting for the British proposals, remaining in the meantime on the defensive, in the hope of thus winning the sympathies of the world and perhaps the support of other nations, and leaving to Great Britain the ignominy of starting hostilities.

If they await the advance of General Sir Redvers Buller, it is conceivable that peace will not be broken during the present year. Should that prove the case and should the alleged wastage in the Boer commandoes continue, the force confronting the British commanding general will be neither as numerous nor as efficient as that now encamped along the Natal border.

Peace Negotiations.

Events have thus seemed to shape themselves to secure ample pause for consideration. All the proposals in the correspondence between President Steyen of the Orange Free State and Sir Alfred Milner, British high commissioner in South Africa, show that the negotiations were proceeding up to October 6th and that neither despaired of peace, Sir Alfred Milner saying he was sure any reasonable proposal would be favorably considered by the British government.

President Steyen's virtual proposal of a neutral zone, to be created pending further attempts at conciliation, meets with considerable approval.

A rumor is current that political interest in the situation may shortly increase, as it is alleged that the managers of the Unionist party in Great Britain are strongly urging the government to dissolve Parliament after the necessary credit is voted and to go to the electorate in a parliamentary general election upon the broad issue of the government's policy in South Africa.

The real intentions of the premier, the Marquis of Salisbury, may be expected to develop shortly. As at present arranged, the work of the session, which will begin October 17th, will consist of the Queen's speech, dealing exclusively with the South African question, the voting of the credit and the passage of an appropriation bill. This will occupy three weeks.

Anarchy Threatened.

According to the latest advices from Johannesburg, the natives, who seem to have been reinforced by the lawless element, are getting out of hand, and anarchy is threatened.

From the continent comes a report that preparations are being made for an organized attack upon the mines by the natives and the destruction of the plants.

A report is in circulation of an organization of a corps of volunteers to aid the burghers, but it lacks confirmation.

The Berlin correspondent of the Standard says: "Information has been received in diplomatic quarters here that Lord Salisbury, at the last moment, hesitates to enter upon a war with the Transvaal. A peaceful solution is not, therefore, altogether impossible, although it is improbable.

The latest dispatch from Lourenzo Marquez relating to the chasing of the steamer Guelph by the cruiser Philomel caused some stir, especially as it was announced that the Guelph had landed at Durban 414 cases of ammunition for the Boers. There is a pretty general feeling that ammunition ought not to be allowed to be forwarded.

Lord Wantage, president of the British Red Cross Society, will shortly issue an appeal for contributions to aid in the work of the society, which, he says, will provide two hospital railway trains and a hospital ship. The Duke of Westminster and Lord Wantage have given £1,000 each, and Baron Rothschild has raised £11,000 among his friends.

Duration of the Campaign.

Some indication of the War Office estimate of the duration of the campaign is given by the fact that the authorities have contracted for eight months' supplies of bread and other military requisites rendered necessary by the absence of the bulk of the army service corps, whom the War Office evidently calculates will be at home again by the beginning of May. It appears that although the War Office called up 25,000 reservists, only the pick of them, some 5,000, will be retained with the colors. The authorities are pleased at the application of a number of reservists belonging to the unmobilized classes who are volunteering for foreign service. The War Office announces that wives of reservists will get six pence and each child two pence daily while the husbands and fathers are retained by the colors.

Baron Tweedmouth presided at a meeting of the council of London radicals to-night which, after a speech by Lord Tweedmouth deploring the unwise policy of the government whose dispatches he declared were not couched in conciliatory terms, adopted a resolution in favor of arbitration and calling upon the government to take steps tending to the settlement of the difficulty with the Transvaal by negotiations for arbitration.

The Situation Very Grave.

PRETORIA, October 9.—President Kruger, in the course of an interview to-day, said he regarded the situation as very grave and considered it very difficult to predict coming events. The landing of British reinforcements in Natal, he said, did not trouble him, as he had full faith in the Almighty. Mr. Kruger declared he knew nothing of the reported intention of Mr. Hofmeyer, the Afrikander leader, and Mr. J. Rose Innes, under secretary of naval affairs in South Africa, to come to Pretoria, and that there was nothing further known regarding the suggested arbitration by the United States.

President Kruger will celebrate his 75th birthday to-morrow. State Secretary Reitz to-day said that negotiations were pending regarding mediation by the United States, but that nothing has been decided.

LONDON, October 9.—The Daily Telegraph's Ladysmith correspondent says that a trustworthy colonial farmer asserts that he saw a thousand armed Boers on Sunday within the Natal border near Charlestown.

CAPE TOWN, October 9.—The Afrikander Rand has decided to call a special session of Congress in November. The members of the Rand are advised to refrain in the meantime from taking part in local meetings.

FILIPINOS ATTACK AMERICANS IN MANILA.

Driven Off After An Hour's Fighting—Gen. Schwan's Expedition Within Sight of Insurgent Stronghold.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

MANILA, October 9.—This afternoon a body of insurgents was seen near Laloma church, four miles from the heart of the city of Manila. They opened fire, the bullets falling among the tents of the Twenty-fifth infantry.

The Americans manned the trenches and replied at a range of 1,200 yards. The insurgents volleyed and the Americans used their artillery.

The fight lasted an hour, after which the insurgents retreated. One American was wounded. The scouts of the Twentieth infantry are now reconnoitering.

An expedition, composed of the United States gunboats Callao and Manila, with an armored flat boat and steam pump, has left Cavite for the river Pasig, or Betis, which empties into Manila bay, on the north side, with a view of raising the Spanish river gunboat Ayat, purposely sunk in the river by the Spaniards, which is reported to be in good condition.

The United States gunboat Helena, with a body of marines from the Baltimore, preceded the expedition to make soundings at the mouth of the river.

Stronghold of the Insurgents.

General Schwan's column, consisting of the Thirteenth infantry, a battalion of the Fourteenth infantry, two troops of cavalry, Captain Reilly's battery of the Fifth artillery and Lowe's scouts, continued the advance to-day toward San Francisco de Malabon, meeting with little resistance and suffering no casualties. The enemy fell back steadily. Provisions are being conveyed to Rosare, between Noveleta and Santa Cruz.

The American camp to-night is within sight of San Francisco de Malabon, the stronghold of the insurgents in the province of Cavite where the Filipinos are said to number five thousand.

During the march from Noveleta to Rosaro only a few shots were fired. This large coast town was literally filled with white flags. The Americans captured two or three hundred men, Filipinos changing their clothing for white costumes. The bay of Rosaro was filled with hundreds of boats, in which the people had spent an exciting night.

Sunday's Fighting.

WASHINGTON, October 9.—General Otis has made the following report to the War Department of yesterday's fighting:

"Schwan, with column of 1,726 men, Thirtieth infantry, battalion Fourteenth infantry, with cavalry and artillery, left Bacoor yesterday morning and proceeded to Noveleta. Encountered heavy opposition, but drove the enemy, capturing two guns and inflicting damage. His casualties, Capt. Saffold, Thirteenth infantry, killed; Capt. McGrath, Fourth cavalry, seriously wounded, and ten enlisted men wounded. The column entered Rosaro this morning, meeting slight opposition. Navy vessels and marines at Cavite made a demonstration on Noveleta while Schwan advanced at the same time. Troops at Imus attacked insurgents at San Nicholas, two miles east of the city, and drove them from the roads intersecting there. Four men slightly wounded. Enemy left six men on field."

YELLOW FEVER REPORT.

New Cases But No Deaths at New Orleans and Key West.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW ORLEANS, October 9.—There were two new cases of yellow fever reported by the board of health on Sunday and two to-day. There have been no deaths.

At the end of last week there were a total of twelve cases under treatment in the entire city and suburbs.

KEY WEST, FLA., October 9.—Twenty-five cases of yellow fever were reported to-day; no deaths.

Ten of the volunteer regiments last called out have recruited their full quota of men and will be immediately prepared for transportation to the Philippines.

Repairs to the cruiser Brooklyn will be made at the Norfolk navy yard at once, and it is expected that the ship will be able to clear for Manila directly from Norfolk inside of two days.

The capacity of the Estille cotton mill, at Selma, Ala., which now runs fifty thousand spindles, will be doubled. The machinery has been ordered and the work of extending the building will begin at once.

There have only been three new cases of yellow fever officially reported this month in Havana and there are only five patients now under treatment in the hospitals. It is believed that four of these will recover.

OUTLOOK FOR TO-DAY'S RACE.

Columbia's People Uneasy and Anxious—Shamrock's Calm and Confident.

THERE'S GOOD REASON FOR IT

The English Boat Has Done Better Work On the Three Days of the Flukes. Weather the Important Thing. New Sails for Columbia.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, October 9.—There is a buoyant feeling of expectancy and excitement among the yachtsmen to-night, not that they feel sure of a race to-morrow, but they know every day will be a race day from now to the finish, with the exception of Wednesday. This agreement of the regatta committee and the Shamrock people has proved popular. It is a fair proposition and every one likes the manner in which it is met.

This has been a foggy day down around the Horse Shoe and everything has been quiet on the fleet there, except on the decks of the Columbia, where the crews have been cutting and refitting sails. This is taken in yachting circles to indicate nervousness. There is nothing to be gained in trying to put aside the facts. They are worrying on the Columbia; they are calm and confident on the Shamrock. The reason for all this is that the English boat has done the better work on the three days of the flukes.

Americans are Uneasy.

There is good reason for nervousness among the Americans, and nothing has occurred to-day to diminish it. It is an unpleasant truth, but it is just as well to admit it.

The weather is the important thing now. Three days of drifting have changed the character of the speculation. The weather men in Washington promise a southerly increasing breeze. If it comes, it will be a welcome wind to thousands of yachtsmen who have come many miles to witness the contest. If this prediction is fulfilled the racers will be sent over the line to windward down the Jersey coast, the course the same as Saturday's, but that the order of sailing is reversed, the first leg to windward with a run home. This will be more satisfactory, as it gives a better change for skill in manœuvering for the weather berth at the start.

The fog situation at Sandy Hook emitted its doleful warning all to day through the layers of mist. Dreary as the day was, it broke at least the rule of the good wind on off days and calms on racing days and on all sides there was hope that the wind for once would be good and true on the day of the race.

New Sails for the Columbia.

As soon as Hathaways sails-makers got through with the alterations of the Columbia's mainsail this morning, the sail was hauled up from below, bent to the mast, boom end-gaff and hoisted.

After inspection by managing owner Islin and Captain Barr it was decided that the sail was not fit to do battle to-morrow so it was lowered and after some minor alterations it was hoisted again at 3 o'clock P. M. when it set almost flat as a board, except for the few wrinkles up near the head under the gaff.

A new club topsail was also bent, but not hoisted. It was made up on the yard and covered to keep it dry, for the air was full of what old sailors call "Scotch mist." The mainsail was lowered soon after 4 o'clock, stowed on the boom and covered for the night.

Colonel Oliver Islin arrived from the city on a tug just before noon. When seen on board the St. Michaels soon after he said: "We are all hoping for a breeze to-morrow, so that we may finish at least one race. I should like to get through before Christmas."

Mr. Islin did not care to make any comment on the last race further than to say that some of the newspaper reporters' criticisms of Columbia's tactics were unfair and uncalled for. The Columbia's crew, he said, were all eager for the next race. "If we have a good steady breeze," said he, "I have every confidence in the yacht."

Lipton Confident He Will Win.

On both Shamrock and Erin an air of confidence is noticeable, and the men will be greatly surprised if they do not capture the cup. Sir Thomas himself is as certain of carrying the coveted silver cup over to the Royal Yacht Club as he is that there is to be at least three more races; but he does not care to win on a fluke of any sort. His sole desire is for the better boat to win, and if he cannot win with Shamrock it is more than likely he will come again next year with another boat.

The owners of the challenger voiced the sentiments of those on the Erin that there would be no wind to morrow. They thought the fog which hung heavily over the Horse Shoe today would not clear up for over twenty-four hours, but expressed the wish many times that King Eolus would ply his bellows vigorously tomorrow, so that the racers could have a chance at each other in something beside a drifting match.

When asked what had been done aboard Shamrock during the day Sir Thomas replied that the crew had not touched a piece of rigging or a sail since the green craft came into her moorings Saturday night, and that his boat was ready to sail another race an hour after that of Saturday was declared off.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—At 2 A. M. Sandy Hook reports "dense fog, no wind."

CARTER PAID THE FINE.

The Habeas Corpus Proceedings in His Case Continued Until Next Saturday.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, October 9.—Oberlin M. Carter, the disgraced army officer, has paid the fine of $5,000 imposed by the court martial. His check for that amount was sent to United States District Attorney Burnett.

Mr. Rose, of Carter's counsel, has been called to Savannah and Judge Lacombe therefore extended the time for submission of briefs in the habeas corpus proceedings until next Saturday. The writ was obtained by Mr. Rose in an endeavor to save his client from the additional punishment of imprisonment for five years in the military prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kas.

RESULT OF A QUARREL.

C. M. Gardner Killed by Marcus Frank at Palm Beach, Florida.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., October 9.—C. M. Gardner, editor and publisher of Our Sunny Land, of Miami, was killed at West Palm Beach this afternoon by Marcus Frank, manager of a store there. A dispatch to the Times Citizen and Union says that Mr. Gardner, who had arrived on a morning train, became involved in a quarrel with Frank regarding the publication in Gardner's paper of an article in which Frank's mother was mentioned. The quarrel ended in Frank shooting the editor. The slayer was arrested. A coroner's jury recommended that he be held for trial. Gardner's remains were shipped to Miami tonight.
